

This is a detailed topographic map of the area around the village of Khatyn. The map shows the river flowing through the landscape, with the village situated on its banks. A railway line is visible, crossing the river and running parallel to it. The terrain is depicted with contour lines, indicating the elevation and shape of the land. A north arrow is present, pointing towards the top of the map. The map is oriented vertically, with the river flowing from the top towards the bottom.

[illegible]